In Tom Wham's classic The Awful Green Things From Outer Space, one player controls the Awful Green Things. They grow and multiply every turn . . . especially if they can gobble up a crew member! The other player commands the crew, frantically trying weapon after weapon (pool sticks, fire extinguishers, cans of Zgwortz) to find something that kills the monsters.

This edition includes Tom's "Outside the Znutar" rules and counters for going out the airlocks and fighting on the surface of the ship. It also has upgraded components - including a mounted gameboard.

- The best edition yet of this classic, with full-color rules, a mounted gameboard, die-cut counters, and five green dice!
- You never know what a weapon does until you try it, so every game is different.
- You get to throw Zgwortz at monsters.
